Regina McCormick Writes Prize-Winning Fire Prevention Essay

Our present water shortage makes all fire-prevention material beneficial reading and today Timmo gives to you the prize-winning fire prevention essay at HTHS.

It is written by Regina McCormick, daughter of Mrs. Marie McCormick and a senior at the high school. She will receive her choice of a nine-month scholarship at Southern Illinois university or a $50 Series E U. S. bond from Robertson, Creelius and Ghent, sponsors of the contest.

Those participating and receiving honorable mention were Carole Thaxton, Don Upchurch, Mollie Jean Brinkley, Marilyn Werkmeister and Doris Steinmarch.

Here is Miss McCormick's winner:

FIRE IN BUSINESS AND INDUSTRY

Today, in this period of unrest and uncertainty, we in the United States are more and more concerned about keeping our country safe and strong. We insist upon huge businesses and industries which will reach a new high in their output of goods. Yet, every year, through carelessness and ignorance, many of these industries are destroyed by fire.

Last year, in the United States there were over 800,000 destructive fires costing over one-half billion dollars and taking over 10,000 lives. More than one-half of these fires were in industrial plants. The dollars lost were only a small part of the total destruction. Indirect losses were jobs, wages, products, savings reduced, and business failures.

Ex-President Truman said in his speech at the Conference on Fire Prevention, "Who can say what fire costs the nation when a single fire in one factory can result in lost jobs and lost wages for hundreds of workers, reduced savings, and reduced volume of trade throughout the community?"

Why is industry plagued by so many destructive fires? Fires that could have been prevented? There are many inside causes that often go unnoticed. One of these is the shortage of important materials which results in substitution of different materials which are not fire safe. Another common cause is shortage of labor, a situation which many times results in inferior construction, an invitation to fire with itself. Still another cause of fires that could be corrected is the carelessness of the workers which seems to have increased in

Teacher En Route Home Injured When Auto Hits Truck

A music teacher at Paxton going home to spend the week-end with her parents in Hardin county was injured last night when her auto hit the rear of a truck that had stopped on the pavement to pull a car out of a ditch.

Police Officer Paul Spangler and State Police Officer Adolph Sweet, who investigated, said driving conditions were terrible because of heavy fog. Injured was Miss Marthian Dusch, 25, whose father is a doctor who operates the hospital at the Gold-corn wye. She was treated at Lightner hospital and released to her father.

The investigating officers said it all started when a car driven by Scottie Stone, 29, of Charleston, Mo., drove off Route 34 near the Gates sawmill south of Pankeyville and that a truck belonging to Charlie Shelton was taken to the scene to pull it out of the ditch.

Miss Dusch, who was going home for the week-end from Paxton, came along and not seeing the truck on the highway, ran into it. She was rushed by ambulance to the Lightner hospital for treatment.

Stone was arrested by officers and today he was charged with driving while intoxicated. One companion was arrested for intoxication and another was picked up by city police in uptown Harrisburg on the same charge.

The Weather

ILLINOIS: Rain changing to snow south and snow north except mixed with some rain east central tonight and turning considerably colder over most of state by Saturday morning. Saturday cloudy and much colder with snow flurries. Low tonight 15-20 south and east. High Saturday in the 20's south-east.

Judge Reynolds Dismisses Liquor Petition

Upholds Refusal Of License to
L. C. Wiedemann

Independence township stayed dry today following a ruling by Circuit Judge C. Ross Reynolds.

L. C. Wiedemann had gone to court to try to obtain a license to sell liquor in that township after he was refused a license by William Alfred Smith of Galatia, county liquor control commissioner, and today Judge Reynolds dismissed Wiedemann's petition and entered judgment in favor of Smith.

Arguments in this matter were heard Nov. 27 on a motion of Smith's attorneys for dismissal of Wiedemann's petition, which asked for a writ of mandamus to compel Smith to issue him a license.

At that time Judge Reynolds said he would allow the motion to dismiss unless attorneys for Wiedemann could quote him law that would make him change his mind. In this matter Smith was represented by State's Attorney Glen O. Jones, Atty. Charles H. Thompson and Atty. George B. Lee. Wiedemann was represented by Atty. D. F. Runney and Atty. Lloyd H. Melton.

On Nov. 27 State's Attorney Jones gave the oral arguments asking that Wiedemann's petition be dismissed, declaring that circuit court did not have jurisdiction in the matter. This argument was upheld by Reynolds.

Wiedemann's petition charged the township actually is wet, contending there is no proper evidence of a wet-dry election having been held there.

Judge Reynolds announced to-day, on Jan. 29 he would be here to sign the docket for the remainder of the cases slated for the December term of court.

Death Takes Mrs. Ruth E. Dixon

Mrs. Ruth E. Dixon, 58, retired school teacher who taught at the Harrisburg Township high school for 24 years, died this morning at 1 o'clock at the Evansville Wellborn Memorial hospital. She had been in failing health for the past year.

Mrs. Dixon was born in 1895 to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Murphy in Cuba, Illinois.

She is survived by her husband, Herbert Dixon, 125 West Park, and the following brothers and sisters: Loren E. Murphy, Monmouth, Ill.; Clarence D. Murphy, Los Angeles, Cal.; Ray Murphy, Marie Murphy, and Mrs. Alta Nelles, all of Cuba, and a number of nieces and nephews. Her first husband, Everett Hawkins, preceded her in death.

There will be a short funeral service Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Caskins funeral chapel. She will then be taken Sunday morning to Cuba where a service will be held at 1 p. m. Burial will be in the Cuba cemetery.

The family requests that no flowers be sent.

Not Enough Water In Middle Fork Creek to Start Pump

There still wasn't any water in Middle Fork creek this morning and as a result, "Congo" isn't pumping.

Nearly everybody figured there was enough runoff yesterday to start the six-inch pump up Middle Fork about three-fifths of a mile from the main pumping station.

But there wasn't.

"I was out there at five o'clock this morning," Amos Doom, superintendent of the water plant, stated, "and there's not a drop of water. I don't understand it. Looks like we're going to have to get a real good rain before we get a drop of water."

Meanwhile, the supply in the reservoir gets lesser and lesser.

The city is planning to bring in emergency water from Blue Lake but officials are still hoping that they can start pumping from Middle Fork.

Adams Rites at Eldorado Sunday

Funeral services for Daniel Adams, 57, Eldorado resident who died Thursday morning at the Veterans hospital at Marion, will be held Sunday at 1 p. m. at the chapel of the Bean and Tanner funeral home in Eldorado. Rev. T. Leo Dodd will officiate and burial will be in Lindale Gardens. There will be full military rites by the Eldorado VFW post.

Mr. Adams was a World War I veteran and had been a patient in the Veterans hospital for two weeks.

Salaries of County Officers Boosted with Others; Interest on Primary Election

With politics warming up as the filing dates for the April 13 primary election approach, a lot of interest in persons are querying about just what county officers are receiving during these inflationary days.

County officers' salaries have been increased along, just like the wages of those in private business and industry.

The county this year will elect a sheriff, county judge, county treasurer, county clerk and county superintendent of schools, leaving

Harrisburg Finally Gets Baby Derby Winner

Harrisburg finally got a Baby Derby winner today. After a race that lasted throughout half of January, a baby boy born this morning at Harrisburg hospital won the Derby and will receive numerous gifts from Harrisburg merchants.

The baby boy, weighing seven pounds, five ounces, was born at 11:15 a. m. to Mrs. Marie Patterson, wife of Robert Patterson of 817 East Church street. Delivery was by Dr. W. J. Blackard.

The Pattersons have a girl who was two years old today. Her name is Anna Fay.

Every year The Daily Register, with Harrisburg merchants co-operating, stages a Baby Derby, the winner getting gifts from the merchants.

This is what the winner will get: From the Webster Pharmacy, a half-dozen nurses; from Craggs-DeVilz, a utility table; from The Daily Register, birth announcements; from the Harrisburg Dairy a quart of milk a day for a month; from Brownie's, a clean and press for a parent's garment;

From Foster's Studio, a photograph; from Arensman's, a pair of slipper socks; from Rainbow's Drugs, a bottle warmer; from Barter and Keltner Drugs, a night light; from the Lynn Shop, a gown and blanket; from Jackson's Drugs, a comb and brush set; from Skaggs Electric, a bottle warmer;

From the Posy Shop, a flower arrangement; from Val-U dress shop, nylon stockings for mother; from Ronnie's Studio, a Childhood Record Book Plan; from Polk's, baby shoes; from Ray's Drugs, a net liner; from Baby Gift box, from Skaggs Pharmacy, a dryer pants set; from Winkelman's, a spoon and fork set; from the Brokerage, a half dozen diapers, from the Fashion Palace, a baby socks and boots set; from Grant's Jewelry store, a baby's gold ring.

Take Federal Prisoner to Danville

John Calvin Council, a federal prisoner held in the Saline county jail, was taken to Danville today.

Council, Paducah, Ky., was arrested on charges of stealing a car and taking it across state lines, was taken as far as Lawrenceville by Deputy U. S. Marshal John Small. He was to be picked up there by another marshal and taken to Danville.

Student Late for School Because Military Police

BOSTON (AP)—When John Carey, 16, was late for school, he came up with this excuse:

A pair of burly military policemen picked him up in his home Thursday on charges of being AWOL from an airborne division. Carey said the case of "mistaken identity" was not discovered until he had been questioned for two hours.

R. Dale Wilson

R. Dale Wilson today revealed he will seek re-election as Saline county superintendent of schools, running for nomination on the Republican ticket in the April primary election.

Wilson, who taught at Logan, Horace Mann, Junior high and McKinley schools in Harrisburg, was principal of McKinley school at the time he was elected to his first term as school superintendent.

He has been active in state school affairs, in 1953 serving as president of the Illinois County Superintendents' association, and at present being secretary-treasurer of the Southern Illinois Schoolmasters' club.

No Indictments In Thefts at State Hospitals

Grand Jury Lashes
Investigators,
Criticizes Methods

KANKAKEE, Ill. (UP)—The Kankakee County grand jury failed to indict any of the persons accused of thievery in its investigation of Kankakee and Manteno state hospitals.

However, the grand jury lashed out at Welfare Department investigators criticizing some of the methods used in the investigation of three alleged thefts at the state institutions.

Those arrested were Ferdinand Foster and Mrs. Bernadette Florant, employees at the Kankakee hospital and Edmond Hamend, former butcher at Manteno.

The jury Thursday branded the investigators as "overzealous" and rapped them for failing to supply corroborative evidence saying that public property of "substantial value has been taken by state employees for a period of 12 years."

The jury blamed the investigators' failure to get the dates and times of the thefts as one of the main reasons why they could not indict any of those accused of the thefts.

Command Director

The jury recommended possible legislative action to correct conditions at all state institutions and urged the separation of administrative and medical departments in all institutions and the building of a new one million dollar kitchen at the Kankakee hospital.

The jury noted in its report that changes are needed in the institutions and commended Dr. Otto L. Bettag, state welfare director, for instituting reforms.

They also said Walter Peters and Miss Daisy M. Day, business manager and dietitian at Kankakee who resigned, seemed qualified for their duties.

The grand jury also commended Dr. Ernest S. Klien, who resigned as Kankakee superintendent after the Welfare Department's investigation.

C. H. Burnett, Well Known Eldorado Businessman, Dies

(Colonel) C. H. Burnett, well-known Eldorado resident who lived at 1104 Walnut street, died Thursday at 5:20 p. m. in the Pearce hospital.

He was a very prominent businessman and banker for many years, and was a charter member and trustee of the Calvary Baptist church in Eldorado. He donated the land for the church building and also the land for the Eldorado Memorial Library.

Mr. Burnett was a member of the Masonic lodge, Shriners, Chamber of Commerce, a charter member of the Eldorado Rotary club and a past president of the Illinois Retail Merchants association.

He is survived by three sisters, Mrs. John F. Lynn, St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. C. H. Randall, Los Angeles, Calif.; and Mrs. William Speers who lived with him in the old Burnett home.

The funeral will be Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Calvary Baptist church. Rev. Paul Johnson will officiate, and burial will be in the Masonic cemetery in Raleigh.

The body will be taken from the Bean and Tanner funeral home to the residence today at 4 p. m. and will lie in state there until Sunday at 1:30 p. m. when it will be taken to the church to lie until funeral time.

Mrs. Leroy French, 32, Former Resident, Dies; Rites at Alton Saturday

Mrs. Louella French, 32, wife of Leroy French, Alton, died Wednesday at 8:30 p. m. at the Barnes hospital in St. Louis, Mo., where she had been a patient since Dec. 10.

Mrs. French is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Stout of this city and formerly lived here before her marriage.

Besides her parents she is survived by a brother, Glen Stout, Cairo, and a sister, Mrs. Donna Roberts, Kirkwood, Mo.

The funeral will be Saturday at 10 a. m. at the Streeter funeral home in Alton. Rev. Jack Dorris will conduct the service, and burial will be in the Valhalla Memorial Park in Alton.

Picked Up by Military Authorities

Military police last night came after Oral P. Stanley, said AWOL from Fort Leonard Wood, and took him to Scott Air Base near Belleville.

Communists Charge UN Plan to Free Prisoners Will 'Destroy the Truce'

PANMUNJOM, Korea, Saturday (AP)—The Communists broke their silence today on the United Nations plan to free anti-Communist Korean and Chinese war prisoners and said it would "destroy the truce."

Semi-official Radio Peiping, mouthpiece for Red China, called the plan to send the POWs to Formosa and South Korea an "American scheme."

"This American plot makes the Korean problem more grave and cannot guarantee the full realization of the armistice agreement," a Peiping broadcast said. "It will destroy the Korean truce."

Peiping did not say the Reds were prepared to resume the Korean fighting but the broadcast said "if the American side rejects the proposal of the Chinese and North Korean side and attempts to delay the resumption of the preliminary talks, America must take the blame for creating a tense situation."

"The most urgent problem is to resume the preliminary talks immediately," Peiping said.

A few hours later, Peiping's North Korean counterpart, Pyongyang Radio, said the North Korean Communists also "strongly" oppose India's plan to return more than 22,000 POWs to the U. N. and Red commands.

The Reds said they were "strongly against" the Indian release plan and repeated earlier Communist demands that the POWs be held in the neutral zone under Indian guard until the full Korean peace conference decides their fate.

India said it would turn the prisoners back to their captors next Wednesday but warned both sides not to free them. However, the U. N. Command repeated the armistice agreement provided for their release and went ahead with plans to evacuate 7,700 North Koreans to South Korea and 14,000 Chinese to Formosa.

Earlier, unexpected support of the Indian plan came from India's most severe critic, South Korea.

Testifying were Stokich's buddy, George Butler, who jumped to safety as part of the rock fall that caught Stokich fell where he had been standing, Kendall Meacham, a repairman who was nearby when the rock fell, and Dr. W. J. Blackard, who described the injuries.

Butler said that Stokich, a joy runner, was pulling back a load of rock where a buggy runaway was being cleaned out when the rock fell, catching the victim between the rock and the machine.

Meacham said he was about 100 feet away when he heard the rock fall and hurried to the scene. He described the rock as being from four to six inches thick, 25 or 30 feet wide and about 18 feet across.

Announcement of the merger, biggest single automotive transaction since Chrysler bought out Dodge in 1928, came as no surprise. It was known that Nash and Hudson had been negotiating for six months on details of the agreement.

Industry spokesmen said the merger was undertaken because of the increasingly difficult position of independent auto firms in competing with the "Big Three" under current market conditions. The consolidation leaves only two major independents in the field, Packard and Studebaker.

Local Banks Re-Elect Officers

Harrisburg's two banking institutions re-elected officers and directors this week.

At the Harrisburg National bank, officers re-elected were J. M. Pruett, president; G. O. Davenport, vice president; John B. Lee, vice president; H. O. Buell, cashier; and Wayne Baker, Dorothy Bourland, Jeannette James and O. R. Fischer, assistant cashiers.

Directors re-elected were Mr. Pruett, Mr. Lee, Mr. Davenport, Mr. Buell, K. C. Capel, John R. Jackson, Frank P. Parker and J. H. Pruett.

The First National bank re-elected Frank S. Gray president, J. L. Pickering vice president, Harold Parker cashier and Mary C. Woolard assistant cashier.

Directors re-elected were Mr. Gray, Mr. Pickering, Miss Mabel Scott, W. B. Welch and L. A. Wasson.

Raymond Allen of Carrier Mills Enters Race for Sheriff

Raymond "Red" Allen, Carrier Mills barber, is circulating petitions for the Republican nomination for sheriff.

A native of Saline county and a former mayor of Carrier Mills, Mr. Allen resides at 16 West Washington street. He is a member of the Saline County Board of School Trustees.

The Reds said they were "strongly against" the Indian release plan and repeated earlier Communist demands that the POWs be held in the neutral zone under Indian guard until the full Korean peace conference decides their fate.

India said it would turn the prisoners back to their captors next Wednesday but warned both sides not to free them. However, the U. N. Command repeated the armistice agreement provided for their release and went ahead with plans to evacuate 7,700 North Koreans to South Korea and 14,000 Chinese to Formosa.

Earlier, unexpected support of the Indian plan came from India's most severe critic, South Korea.

Witnesses Tell Of Rock Fall Fatal To Carl Stokich

Carl Stokich died of rock fall injuries in an unavoidable accident at Sahara 5 mine early yesterday, a coroner's jury verdict stated after three witnesses testified at the inquest conducted by Coroner Elmer M. Gibbons at the court house last night.

Testifying were Stokich's buddy, George Butler, who jumped to safety as part of the rock fall that caught Stokich fell where he had been standing, Kendall Meacham, a repairman who was nearby when the rock fell, and Dr. W. J. Blackard, who described the injuries.

Butler said that Stokich, a joy runner, was pulling back a load of rock where a buggy runaway was being cleaned out when the rock fell, catching the victim between the rock and the machine.

Meacham said he was about 100 feet away when he heard the rock fall and hurried to the scene. He described the rock as being from four to six inches thick, 25 or 30 feet wide and about 18 feet across.

Elect Two New Members of Red Cross Board

The Board of Directors of the Saline County chapter of the American Red Cross met at noon Wednesday at Schierle's cafe. Two new board members were elected. Guy Hunter of Carrier Mills was elected Junior Red Cross chairman and Loren Dallas of Carrier Mills was elected as one of the co-chairmen of the County Blood program.

William J. Hopkins, chapter chairman, stated that Mr. Dallas has been taking an active part in the blood program in Carrier Mills and vicinity and that Mr. Hunter has been serving on the Junior Red Cross committee in charge of enrollment of the schools in Saline county. Mr. Hopkins stated that many of the schools in the county have already enrolled in Junior Red Cross.

Fred Armistead and J. Ward Barnes of the county are members of the Junior Red Cross committee.

Russell Malan, co-chairman of the blood program, made a report on the Bloodmobile visit in this county this month which produced only 130 pints and the quota was 472 for the two-day visit if this county was to make up its shortage since June 30, 1953. It is our responsibility to produce 1745 units of blood from July 1, 1953 through June 30, 1954.

"So far the people of this county have given only 461 pints of blood and we are currently using about 88 pints a month in the hospitals in Saline county alone," Mr. Malan stated. "Many of our residents are hospitalized outside the county are receiving free blood through this program and we also have an obligation to the Department of Defense to help stockpile gamma globulin for the polio season," he said.

After Mr. Malan's report, the board was apprehensive about the possibility of losing the blood program as the quantity of blood from Saline county is not adequate to maintain membership in the National Blood program. This loss would be a severe blow to the residents of this county. Ways and means of getting all eligible donors to register and state the number of times they are willing to give during a 12 months' period were discussed and will be worked out with the Recruitment committee at a later date when the other co-chairmen, Auda Stone of Eldorado and Mr. Dallas of Carrier Mills, can be present.

$27,500 Pay Suggested After Study

Salary Boosts Also Urged for Vice President, Judges

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's Salary Commission said today that congressmen are "grossly underpaid" and should have themselves a $27,500 pay raise to $27,500 a year.

It also unanimously recommended pay hikes of $10,000 each for the vice president and speaker of the House, and salary boosts ranging from $12,500 to $14,500 a year for "overworked and poorly paid" federal judges.

The 18-man commission estimated the net cost at $7,508,793. It called this a small price to pay for "the advancement of the public interest which is served."

It said the present low salaries not only drive competent officials into private employment but tend "to confine these important positions to persons of independent wealth or outside earnings." "The dangers" of the latter, it observed, "are too obvious for comment."

The commission also recommended "adequate"—meaning bigger—expense allowances for congressmen and creation of a pension system for the widows and dependents of federal judges.

Still another recommendation was that Congress consider the advisability of providing the vice president with a suitable official residence.

It said the office has had such a "tremendous growth in duties and responsibilities" that it might be appropriate to assign a suitable official residence to its occupant.

tem for the widows and dependents of federal judges.

Still another recommendation was that Congress consider the advisability of providing the vice president with a suitable official residence.

Results of the commission's month-and-a-half study were made public as its members met at the White House with Mr. Eisenhower to present their voluminous report.

Congress, in enacting the law creating the commission, pledged itself to act within 60 legislative days to reject, approve or scale down the proposed pay increases.

In recent years, its members have hesitated to vote themselves a pay raise, but the outcome may be different this time. Many members feel they deserve a raise and can now point to the commission's detailed analysis to show why they are "grossly underpaid."

The commission said they earn far less than industry executives who have "similar qualifications and less responsibility." And that other government employees have had five salary increases since the last boost in congressional pay.

The commission said the same arguments hold true for federal judges who are "so poorly paid" they find it difficult to maintain the way of life that is the necessary complement of the respect and dignity inherent in our courts.

It recommended increases in the $10,000 expense money allotted the vice president and speaker. Congressmen, it said, should have more "adequate" allowances because the average member's expenses are so heavy he has to dip into his own pocket to make ends meet.

Large Crowd Hears Dinner Club Speaker

A large crowd was present last night at the Kurto country club at the meeting of the Southern Illinois Dinner Club. Reservations were completely filled for the dinner meeting in spite of the foggy, inclement weather as members were present from Eldorado, Harrisburg and other nearby areas.

The guest speaker was Sydney Montague who gave an interesting address on "Adventure in Happy Living" in which he described how contagious a happy disposition can be and how smiles and happiness will spread to others.

Bruce Burnett of Eldorado, new president of the dinner club, presided at last night's meeting. This was the first meeting of the year for new officers. Rev. W. L. Cummins, pastor of the First Methodist church in Harrisburg, gave the invocation.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Oklahoma Congressman Wins Title Of Biggest Congressional Liar; Ike Reverses Brannan
On Price Supports For Potatoes;
Senator Magnuson Wants
Ex-Presidents To Sit On National Security Council.

WASHINGTON. — It didn't get in the papers, but ex-Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas recently called a colleague a liar.

Democratic Congressman Tom Steed of Oklahoma, a friend of Rayburn's, was explaining how he got on the "wrong road" while driving to Washington and almost arrived late for the opening of Congress.

"It happened like this," said Steed. "I had left Alabama and was driving through Georgia when I came to a fork in the road. The north fork led to Washington, and the south fork led to Florida. It was late at night, and somehow or other I took the south fork by mistake."

"Well, sir, the next thing I knew I was headed down through Florida and wasn't able to turn around until I reached Miami. There I was stranded in Miami on New Year's Day, with nothing to do, when I learned by pure coincidence that the Oklahoma Sooners were playing Maryland university in the Orange Bowl football game."

"Under the circumstances," continued the Oklahoma, "there was no alternative for me but to go see that football game."

"Tom, that qualifies you as the biggest liar of the new year," reacted Rayburn. "I won't embarrass you by asking how you managed to get tickets for the game at the last minute, because I happen to know they were sold out days in advance."

MOUNTAINS OF SPUDS
Most controversial part of the farm price support operation under Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan was support of potatoes.
It caused him more headaches than any other part of the complex farm program.

Because potatoes can't be shipped long distances, and rot or swell when sent abroad, virtual mountains of spuds piled up in Maine and New Jersey. Pictures of them were featured in the newspapers —alongside photos of the perplexed and perspiring secretary of agriculture.

Finally Brannan got rid of price supports for potatoes.
In his farm message to Congress this week, however, President Ein-shower recommended that price supports for potatoes be restored again.

Note — Though Ike proposes reversing Brannan on potatoes, he recommended the Brannan plan for wool. Quoth the Wall Street Journal: "It's the Brannan plan in sheep's clothing."

EX-PRESIDENTS
Sen. Warren Magnuson, Washington Democrat and one of the few bachelors left in the Senate, has introduced a bill that would make Harry Truman and Herbert Hoover members of the National Security Council.

Under Eisenhower, this council has been given extremely wide powers, can fix the size of the armed services, has taken over many decisions hitherto made by the commander-in-chief himself.

Not long ago, for instance, Ein-shower informed Secretary of the Army Stevens, when the latter protested against cutting down the size of the army, that his protest would be considered and decided by the National Security Council.

Some Eisenhower advisers originally considered the idea of asking ex-President Truman to serve on the council as an adviser only, in order to get the benefit of his rich background of information regarding previous decisions. Now Senator Magnuson has gone one step further and proposes that both living ex-presidents serve as advisers on the council.

150,000 AUTO THEFTS
Senate investigators are calling upon the automobile industry to supply the answer to the nation's most common juvenile crime—auto thefts.

The Hendrickson committee, investigating juvenile delinquency, has found that nearly 150,000 autos are stolen each year, mostly by teen-age kids. If cars could be made tamper-proof, it would help curb this flagrant contribution to delinquency.

As a result, the committee will invite industry spokesmen to explain what is being done to protect automobiles from juvenile "hot wire" specialists. This is the name given to auto thieves who pick the ignition lock, cross contain wires and start the car without a key.

Committee investigators have found that thieves usually break into a car by forcing the side window vent or picking the outside lock. What is needed, they say, is a side window that can't be smashed or forced, an outside lock that can't be picked and an inside lock on the ignition.

CHURCHILL IRKED
Prime Minister Churchill has sent a diplomatic though pointed warning to President Eisenhower that Britain wants to be kept fully informed during the secret Russian-American talks on atomic energy.

Churchill has sent a special message to the White House pointing out that Britain, as an atomic power and ally of the United States, must be consulted every step of the way.

He did not say so, but Churchill is reported to be burned up because Britain has been frozen out of the first stage of the talks. The old British warhorse believes Ein-shower and Dulles are doing exactly what they urged him not to do—namely, talk to the Russians in secret.

Eisenhower has now promised the British embassy that they will get a day-by-day fill-in on the talks but, even so, Churchill is still fuming.

KOREAN IRON CURTAIN
The Chinese are building an underground Maginot Line of steel and concrete across the 38th parallel in Korea, which doesn't look good for the unification of that country. Chinese farmers are also pouring into North Korea and settling there permanently.

This has convinced U. S. observers that the Reds do not intend to renew the Korean war, but at the same time will never agree to unification.

U. S. policy will be to accept the status quo, but the big problem will be to stop Syngman Rhee from renewing the war on his own. If we can hold Rhee back, the 38th parallel will become a permanent iron curtain frontier between the free world on the south and communism on the north.

Galatia Home Bureau Unit
Makes Cancer Bandages

Two dozen cancer bandages were made by the members of Galatia Home Bureau unit at its January meeting held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Hubert Bond. "The Use of Egg Yolks" was the minor topic given by Mrs. Max Coch-rum.

Calendars were distributed to those who sold them and roll call on "Crafts" indicated that the unit members are vitally interested in many which are taught in Home Bureau, such as painting, basket weaving and work with yarns.

Mrs. E. M. Cardwell, a guest, joined the unit. The major topic,
"Overweight in Its Relation to Chronic Diseases," was given by Mrs. John C. Small, who stated that overweightness is due primarily to over-eating and that quick reducing methods are dangerous.

The hostess served pineapple tart and coffee at the social hour.
The February meeting will be with Mrs. Menard Hawkins.

Mrs. Walter Golliber was hostess to Mt. Moriah W. S. C. S. Thursday with 12 women answering roll call with "My New Year's Resolution."

The lesson, "Love Never Fail-eth," was given by Mrs. John C.
Small and Mrs. David Lewis. The love chapter, 1 Cor. 13, was read by Mrs. Joyce Cable. Mrs. William Thompson is the president-elect for next year. The meeting was closed by prayer led by Miss Nannie Baker.

The hostess, assisted by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. W. L. Goll-iber, served ice cream and cake.

The February meeting will be with Mrs. Clifford Knight.

Uncle John Upton is spending a

At Methodist Youth
Meeting at Eldorado

A color film, "At Work With the Word," produced by the American Bible society and containing authentic scenes taken on the home and foreign mission fields, will be shown at 4:35 p. m. Saturday at the education building of the First Methodist church. This will be part of a week end program sponsored by the Harrisburg Sub-District Methodist Youth Fellowship.
The program begins Friday at 7
p. m., continues Saturday from 9
a. m. to 8 p. m. and concludes Sunday evening.

The Rev. Glen Fisher, Elkville, is the inspirational speaker with teachers from Harrisburg, Eldora-

March of Dimes

March of Dimes have been mailed throughout the county and A.
M. Hetherington, chairman of the Saline county drive, urges everyone to make a prompt return of their contributions so the drive may be completed this month.

The "pitch for polio" scheduled by the American Legion for tomorrow has been postponed because of the inclement weather and will be held at a later date. This is the oldest activity in the Saline county March of Dimes campaign,
Mr. Hetherington states.

Other activities in behalf of the March of Dimes campaign include an all-night program by WEBQ scheduled for Wednesday, Jan. 27, and a television program over WSL-TV Saturday, Jan. 23, from 10 p.

Methodist W. S. C. S. Holds Meeting At Wesley Center

The members of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist church were welcomed by the president, Mrs. Herman Schwartz, at the regular meeting at Wesley center Wednesday. There was a good attendance in spite of adverse weather conditions.

The meeting was opened with prayer offered by Mrs. Joe Gidcomb.

Announcement was made of a 10:30 a. m. on Feb. 10 for the purpose of filling out quarterly reports. Mrs. C. E. Wing, promulgator of the society, urged that all officers of the society be present.

The worship center, prepared by Mrs. Ed Cummins, symbolized the Christian's prayer for world peace. Upon the white linen-covered altar rested the open Bible flanked by Doves of Peace together with a globe of the world and lighted tapers.

Mrs. John Schwartz, program chairman, presented Mrs. C. M. Jones whose devotion theme was, "But It Is the Same God." Quoting scripture from the 12th chapter of 1st Corinthians, Mrs. Jones said that it was a blessed experience to realize the different nationalities around the world that call themselves Christian. In urging everyone to put forth greater effort to let people know we belong to Christ, she quoted from the "Christian Advocate" an article on "Let's Take Spiritual Inventory," stating that if it is good business to take annual inventory to ascertain gains or losses, it is also a good idea to take spiritual inventory to discover spiritual progress.

Mrs. Ray Durham presented the program "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God." The scene of the lesson was Southeast Asia which included Indo-China, Thailand, Burma, Malaya, Sumatra, and Borneo. A map was drawn to acquaint the audience with the strategic position of this area with reference to the world. The talk showed the Christian church in action in Southeast Asia where communism battles for the minds of men. Mrs. Durham also brought out how Christians of many races and nations can be united in spirit resulting in a fortress against evil and darkness.

The program was brought to a close with Mrs. B. G. Finkhouser singing the hymn for 1954, "Prayer for Peace." Mrs. W. L. Cummins played the piano accompaniment. It was beautifully rendered and was a perfect complement to the day's lesson.

During the social hour, the Ruth division served refreshments.

UN Will Accept POWs Ahead Of Schedule

WASHINGTON — The United Nations Command will accept return of Korean war prisoners ahead of schedule and then free them Jan. 22, American officials predicted today.

The two-way action is being planned, it was said, in spite of the possibility that the Communist reaction might be "violent and messy."

"We will accept the prisoners we formerly held in line with India's decision to turn them back to us three days in advance of the Jan. 22 deadline for their freedom," one informant said. "There has been no change in our position that they are entitled to freedom beginning at midnight Jan. 22."

There was some apprehension in official quarters that trouble might erupt when India turns over the prisoners next Wednesday or when they are finally freed three days later.

This fear was underlined when Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Army chief of staff, warned that "serious consequences" might stem from India's move to return the prisoners ahead of schedule to their original captors.

Citizens Protest Disappearance of Loot After Arrests

EAST ST. LOUIS — The board of police and fire commissioners today continued an inquiry into the alleged disappearance of $8,000 of $11,000 loot from a tavern holdup.

About 25 citizens attended a session of the board Thursday night protesting that "the robbers have been arrested and convicted but nothing has been done about recovery of the money."

Three of the robbers, Horace Clay, Fred Johnson and Albert Word, all of East St. Louis, were convicted Thursday in circuit court at Belleville of the Nov. 12 holdup of Archie's Tavern. A fourth, George Beard, had pleaded guilty.

The robbers have insisted they turned over what loot they didn't spend to police.

The citizens group wanted action in the investigation which Board Chairman David R. Morgan said is "in the process."

However, Morgan told the protestors that the board could not act against a member of the Police Department until "written charges have been preferred."

Dr. and Mrs. G. B. Hart of this city have received a message from their son, G. B. Hart Jr., of Downey, Calif., stating that he and his wife are parents of a baby girl born Jan. 7 at the Suburban hospital, South Gate, Calif. The baby weighed seven pounds, 11 ounces and was named Nancy Elaine.

Gene Small, 25, and Mrs. Dorothy Clore, 26, both of Harrisburg, were married yesterday around 3 p. m. in the police magistrate office by Charles McKenzie. Witnesses were Barbara Grimes and Alvin D. Short.

Mrs. Lloyd Branum, who underwent major surgery at Barnes hospital in St. Louis Monday, is reported recovering favorably. Her room number is 2210, second floor.

Two Children Killed by Their Deranged Mother

DETROIT — A deranged mother who used a bat, two butcher knives and a razor to kill her two children was a police prisoner at receiving hospital today.

The murders, as police reconstructed them, occurred in the home of Mrs. Florence Dalton, 34, Thursday afternoon. Found dead were her son David, 10, and daughter Shirley, 5.

Mrs. Dalton, who slashed her wrists and throat in a suicide attempt, was reported in critical condition but doctors believed she would live.

Police said the house showed signs of a struggle between Mrs. Dalton and Shirley, whose slashed body was found in a partly-filled bathtub by the woman's husband, Charles, 33, when he returned from work.

Dalton found his son's slashed and bludgeoned body in the kitchen. He quoted his wife as saying she "put the children to sleep."

Police said Mrs. Dalton apparently lay in wait for her son to return from school after stabbing the girl, then struck him with the bat as he walked in the door. Blood was found on the bat, knives and razor.

Police said the woman became hysterical under questioning. "My babies, my babies," she sobbed. "I want to die, too."

Neighbors described Mrs. Dalton as a mild-mannered woman and were unable to explain the sudden fit of temper that seized her.

The husband told police his wife had been under a physician's care during the past two weeks for treatment of a nervous condition. He said they argued briefly Wednesday on the subject of religious education for their children. She is Jewish and he is a Lutheran.

Initiate Six Into High School Honor Society

Four seniors were initiated into the Senior National Honor society and two sophomores were taken into the Junior society at the Harrisburg Township high school recently.

The seniors elected this year were James Govan, Tom Cole, Martha Armistead and Carolyn Wilson. Avah Phillips and Mary Polance were the only two voted into the Junior society. Former members were June Blackard in the Senior society and Charles Polk and Jane Lasersohn in the junior.

Only seniors and sophomores were voted this time with freshmen and juniors eligible for membership at the close of the fifth six weeks period. All members of the faculty vote by ballot on students who belong to the upper 10 per cent of their class and have an average of 92 or above.

Marilyn Monroe Honeymoons with Joe DiMaggio After Simple Ceremony

SAN FRANCISCO — Movie actress Marilyn Monroe, the hottest property in the 20th Century-Fox galaxy, honeymooned somewhere in California today with baseball great Joe DiMaggio.

The couple climaxed their two-year romance Thursday with a simple wedding ceremony at City Hall attended by a crowd of 500 well-wishers.

Wearing a sleek chocolate brown suit with a white ermine collar and grasping three white orchids in her hand, the sultry bride gurgled, "I'm terribly excited."

She emerged from the chambers of Municipal Judge Charles S. Peery wearing a diamond ring sparkling from her left hand.

DiMaggio, the Yankee Clipper, wore a conservative blue suit and a polka dot tie. He beamed as he told reporters he and Marilyn "decided to go through with it two days ago."

After the ceremony, they dodged the crowd and left in a Cadillac for a 10-day honeymoon, destination undisclosed.

"We're just going to take off," DiMaggio said. "The car's all packed, jammed full of stuff."

Second Marriage for Both
Marilyn said she intended to continue her career as an actress, but she added, "I'm looking forward to being a housewife, too."

Joe gave his age as 39, Marilyn as 25.

With the wedding party were Mr. and Mrs. (Lefty) O'Doul, DiMaggio's first baseball manager; Tom DiMaggio, Joe's brother, and

Three Ministers, Wife of Fourth Killed in Crash

PITTSFIELD, Ill. — Three Greenfield ministers of the Nazarene Church and the wife of a fourth were killed Thursday when their auto collided with an oil truck on icy U. S. 36 near here.

Dr. Grover Van Duyn, 65, Harvey Bettcher, 56, and Calvin C. Wheelton, 39, all of Greenfield, and Mrs. Doris E. Bates, 30, Shirley, were killed in the wreck which critically injured her husband, the Rev. Lee Bates.

Police said the victims were returning from a conference of Nazarene superintendents and evangelists at Kansas City, Mo., when their car struck the truck four miles west of this western Illinois city. Officers said the truck was in the wrong lane.

Van Duyn was a former president of Olivet Nazarene College, Kankakee, Ill., former business manager of Evansville College and former assistant state superintendent of public instruction.

Bettcher was an evangelist and Wheelton held a pastorate at Stringtown, four miles east of Greenfield. Bates, who suffered multiple fractures and internal injuries, recently went to a church at Shirley from Stinesville.

The bodies were to be returned to Greenfield today for services. The truck driver, Vernon Johnson, 24, Pittsfield, was hospitalized with cuts and bruises.

IPAC Reports Increase In Relief Rolls

SPRINGFIELD — The Illinois Public Aid Commission today reported a 5 per cent increase in relief rolls during November and said the hike reflected a decline in economic activity.

The IPAC said the number of relief recipients rose 2,400 to a total of 52,235.

During the same month there were drops of 950 in aid to dependent children cases and 500 in old age pensioners, cutting the overall increase in public aid cases to about 1,000.

Garrett W. Keaster, executive secretary of the IPAC, said the main reason for the increase appeared to be a downturn in some phases of economic activity, mostly in downstate Illinois.

He said further declines were expected during December and the early part of 1954 and may offset the recent trend toward fewer old age pension and aid to dependent children cases.

The IPAC administers five programs—general assistance, or relief; old age pensions; aid to dependent children; aid to the permanently disabled, and blind assistance.

A total of 239,436 persons received $10,658,070 in aid under the five programs during November. Despite the overall increase of 1,000 persons, costs were down $28,000 from October.

Cook county had 25,312 relief cases. Downstate counties with heaviest relief lists were St. Clair, 3,318; Franklin, 2,123; Sangamon, 1,924; Peoria, 1,687; and Williamson, 1,091.

About Town And Country

this period of instability. Until production men realize that they can practice fire safety without hindering their production of goods, fires will continue to destroy these resources. And every time too many fires occur in our plants because of inadequate control in these municipalities. This lack is due to ineffective laws and systematic fire inspection programs.

Certain common fire hazards are found in nearly every type of business and industry. Just what are they and how can they be prevented? Knowing what to do in case of a fire may save your job, your plant, and your life or the lives of others. Two common hazards that are somewhat related are smoking near flammable materials and liquids and failure to put out matches. We can prevent fires resulting from these causes by obeying "No Smoking" signs and always breaking matches before throwing them away. Another very common fire hazard is the ignorance and carelessness of people in regard to electrical appliances. Workers should learn never to hang extension cords from nails or tack them to walls. Electric lights should have proper wattage and not come in contact with cloth or paper shades. Faulty electric fuses should be replaced with new ones and should not be repaired with coins or other metal. Also the careless use of flammable liquids by workers is a big fire hazard in industry. These liquids should be used only in open places and never near an open fire. The last very common fire trap is the accumulation of rubbish and rags containing vegetable, animal, or fish oils. Rubbish should be taken away immediately and put in metal waste baskets. Only rags should be kept in tightly closed metal cases or hung up with plenty of air space about them.

If business and industry will use extra precaution to prevent costly fires, they will be richly repaid. The employee will be assured of more personal safety, continued employment and steady wages, and better working conditions. On the other hand, the employer will gain uninterrupted production, sales and profits, no loss of skilled labor, and better relations with employees.

As we Americans are busy building up our business and industry, we must also be responsible for protecting them. We must realize that safeguarding industry is an economic necessity. The saying is that the best time to fight fires is before they start. In other words, the most valuable fire protection is fire prevention.

Couple with New TV Set Held For Child Neglect

PEORIA, Ill. (UP)—Warren and Velma King were jailed today after shocked authorities found they had purchased a $500 television set while their baby suffered malnutrition and older children played barefoot in the Warren's rickety frame shack.

The gleaming new receiver "stood out like a beacon," said State's Atty. James P. Kellstedt.

The Kings were arrested on child neglect charges Thursday and their five youngsters taken to the Peoria Children's Home.

Police visited the 28-year-old bulldozer operator's shack, which stands by a garbage dump, after neighbors reported seeing two of the children playing in the snow without shoes or stockings.

Kellstedt said that the 8-month-old baby, Wayne, was suffering from malnutrition and the other children had "not eaten a decent meal in weeks."

The only food in the house was a half gallon of milk and some macaroni donated by neighbors, authorities said. King makes $70 a week.

The other children were Shirley Ann, 5, Kathy Lee, 4, Karen Susie, 3, and Michael, 2.

Mrs. King said her husband bought the TV set for Christmas on time. Kellstedt said only two of the five children had shoes.

Cold Wave Sweeps Across Upper Midwest Areas

By United Press
A wave of cold polar air swept into the upper Missouri Valley today and turned eastward, promising rapidly falling temperatures and snow storms.

A special cold wave warning was issued for Iowa by the U. S. Weather Bureau.

The storm center, which reached eastern South Dakota early today, was expected to reach northern Illinois tonight and the Indiana-Ohio border by Saturday morning.

Snow or snow flurries were forecast ahead of the storm center in Iowa, Minnesota, Upper Michigan and northwest Wisconsin and Illinois and Indiana.

Meanwhile, temperatures in the 30s were reported in Middle Atlantic States and light snow fell in New England. A complex of rain storms wet the South from Arkansas to the Atlantic.

The northern cold wave had already sent the mercury skidding to 20 below zero at Cut Bank, Mont.

Divorce Suit Finally Ends

A divorce suit which started in February, 1948, and which has taken up page after page in the chancery docket, came to an end this week.

It was the case in which Robert H. Holmes, attorney, who moved south of Harrisburg from Chicago several years ago, sought a divorce from Florence Holmes of Chicago. Mrs. Holmes filed a cross-complaint.

This week Circuit Judge Clarence E. Wright of Carbondale granted Mr. Holmes a divorce on grounds of desertion, with a settlement that was agreed on.

Before hearing evidence this week all orders in the case were set aside and all pending matters except the complaint, cross-complaint and the answers filed to these complaints, were abated.

Some light drizzle was reported in the lower Ohio Valley, the Pacific Coast areas and the Southwest.

The revival meeting is in its second week here with the Rev. Bill Jones as evangelist. Good crowds have been attending regardless of the bad weather.

Miss Helen Dorch and Josephine Fulkerson of Herod were overnight guests Saturday night of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lambert.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Haney and family of New Liberty spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Williams and son David.

Lewis Wayne Cummins spent Saturday night with his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cummins and sons.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Foster spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Grant Riegel and son, Lowell, of Bankston.

Rev. and Mrs. Earl Vaughn and family and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wilson and family were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lambert.

Our sympathy is extended to the Followell and Coomes families in their recent sorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Cummins visited Mr. and Mrs. John Read of Harrisburg Sunday afternoon. Albert Langford was an overnight guest Saturday night of his cousin, Lacy Epperheimer of Ed-dyville.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy DeNeal and son visited Monday with Mr. and Mrs. William Brockett of Eldorado.

Marriage to DiMaggio is First Headline Romance for Actress Marilyn Monroe

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD — When Marilyn Monroe smiled at Joe DiMaggio over a wedding ring, it was the first time Hollywood's favorite blonde had made headlines in the romance department.

Ava Gardner has wed three times, Lana Turner and Rita Hayworth four. But the loves of Marilyn have been few.

Marilyn single-handedly brought new prosperity to the calendar business and revived sex in the movies, but she has only one teen-age marriage and two fatherly-type friendships behind her.

At 15, the then freckle-faced girl married the boy next door, but in later years she confessed the four-year marriage was partially to escape from a life of shuttling from one foster home to another.

Marilyn started life in an orphanage because her mother was ill and her father dead. She had 11 sets of foster parents before she was 16. She felt unwanted, unloved.

Las Vegas Divorce

Marilyn and Seaman Jim Dougherty were happy, and she even packed love notes in his lunch box. He went off to war, so she got a job in a parachute factory. A picture in the company magazine led to modeling jobs and a movie contract. When Jim came home, Marilyn was interested in a different life. She got a Las Vegas divorce. Dougherty, now a cop in suburban Van Nuys, re-married and has three children.

Romance No. 2 for Marilyn: Agent Johnny Hyde. He gave her encouragement "and took me seriously," she has said, when nobody else helped the shy, naive girl. Hyde loved Marilyn but she never married him "because I'll never marry a man I don't really love." He died four years ago.

As Marilyn's career brightened, she concentrated on hard work. Instead of dating movie actors and executives as do other starlets, she went to night school to get the education she'd never had.

Joe Ran for Cover

Then one day nearly two years ago, agent David March asked Marilyn if she'd meet a pal of his on a blind date at an Italian restaurant.

"I have a date to meet an interesting fellow. He's a baseball player and he's famous," the excited beauty told a studio friend.

Over spaghetti and wine, Marilyn and Joe decided they liked each other.

"I liked his seriousness," said Marilyn. "I can spot a phony, and this man was real. We came separately to the date but we left together—ahead of everybody else."

The blonde and the baseball player began "going steady" because, as Marilyn put it, "I'm a one-man woman. When I meet a man I like, I want to be with him all the time."

When their romance hit print, publicity-shy Joe ran for cover.

U. S., Canada to Repair, Control Niagara Falls

WASHINGTON — The United States and Canada will announce shortly a 17 1/2 million-dollar project to repair Niagara Falls and install a water control system to prevent further erosion.

The International Niagara Board of Control is expected to announce within a week plans for construction work to be financed jointly by the two countries and carried out by private contractors.

A total of 14-million dollars will be spent in construction of a 1,500-foot control structure above Goat Island on the Canadian side of the falls to spread the water more evenly over Canada's Horseshoe Falls.

Control of the water will be carried out through tunnels to be used in connection with a power project. Authorities plan to let 100,000 cubic feet of water a second flow over in daylight during the tourist season from April to Sept. 15. At night and in winter the flow will be only 50,000 feet.

Another 3-million dollars will be spent to dredge the river bottom above Horseshoe Falls to repair two sections which have eroded from the lip of the falls.

To accomplish these engineering feats, the contractors will have to divert temporarily the roaring waters of the Niagara river and lay bare the lip of Horseshoe Falls.

Then workmen, hanging at the brink of the 160-foot drop, must fill two sections like dental cavities and treat them to prevent their further crumbling.

Engineers say the project is necessary to keep the American falls from becoming a bone dry cliff in 2,000 years.

95 Million Bushels
Corn, 431 Million Bushels
Wheat Under Support

WASHINGTON — The Agriculture Department Wednesday reported 95-million bushels of 1953 crop corn were put under price support through Dec. 15, down about five-million bushels the same period a year earlier.

At the same time it said 431,029,740 bushels of last year's wheat crop has been put under support through Dec. 15, well above the 342,812,000 bushels the same time a year ago.

The most corn ever put under support in an entire season was 550,882,000 bushels of the 1948 crop, and the most wheat was 460,550,000 bushels of the 1952 crop.

One look settles it - Buy of the year is BUICK

WE knew them for great automobiles the moment we saw them.

But it turns out we have a far bigger hit on our hands in the new 1954 Buicks than we ever figured.

Folks in a steady stream come into our showroom, look over these glamorous new beauties, and tell us—with signed orders—that Buick's the beautiful buy, hands down.

It's the biggest new-car excitement in a long, long time—and you ought to take a look at it, firsthand.

Because one look at the sensational new styling of these breath-taking Buicks shows them to be the freshest new automobiles in years.

One look into the modern interiors—and through that spectacular new back-swept windshield—firms the conviction.

One look at the new V8 power story, the new ride story, the new handling-ease story—practically wraps up the sale.

And then, one look at the prices—one eye-opening experience with the hottest values to be brought on the American automotive market in 1954—climaxes Buick as the buy of the year. Come in and see for yourself—the sooner, the smarter.

I went to answer the telephone in terror and hope. The colorless voice of an operator said: "Just a moment, Kingston is calling."

A deep bass said: "I'm Sergeant Hopkinson of the Kingston police. Your son is okay, Mr. Flagg."

I let my breath go. "Where is he?"

"Right here. He wasn't kidnapped, Mr. Flagg. One of our patrolmen found him in the park. The boy was under a tree, trying to keep out of the rain. The minute Patrolman Blake spotted him he knew it was the boy we was all looking for."

Hannah was kneeling beside me. I nodded to her, smiling, and she leaned back against the bed and closed her eyes.

"How is he?" I asked.

"Okay, except you could wring out his clothes. We got him wrapped in a blanket."

"Can I speak to him?"

Joey started to weep as soon as he was on the wire. Pop, they all said Dina killed Barney. I wasn't going to stay in that school.

It wasn't only what the boys had said. He had been shocked and frightened, and like any small boy he had fled toward home. He had only $2 and hadn't dared ask Kip Albert for train fare, so he had tried to hitch-hike.

"Pop, I'll never go back to that school."

I told Sergeant Hopkinson that I would leave at once and he advised that I bring dry clothes for Joey.

When I hung up, Hannah said: "Paul, let me go with you."

Kneeling beside me, her hand was on my knee. Her hood was off and her hair was on my cheek.

"If you want to," I said, and I dialed Martha's number. Martha choked up when I told her the news. Then she said: "That briefcase! As far as I'm concerned, it caused worse than murder. It made Joey run away from school and made us assume he was kidnapped and made us act so nasty in my cellar. Not that Hannah Rahn didn't have it coming to her anyway."

"Don't let that part bother you."

"It doesn't. Pick me up on the way. I'll drive to Kingston with you."

No excuse I could think up would sound right.

"Hannah Rahn is coming along too," I said.

There was a silence. Hannah had turned her back and appeared fascinated by the hole in the wall.

"Is she there with you now?" Martha asked after a moment.

"Yes," I felt that I had run out on her.

"Then you won't need me. I'll get some sleep."

Stars were pushing through the torn sky, but it was still blowing and the chill remained. In the car Hannah sat close to me, and after a while I felt her shiver.

"Cold?" I asked.

"Yes. I didn't go into the house when I got home, so I have hardly anything on under this raincoat."

I turned on the heat. In a few minutes the car was cozily warm, but she remained against me, and she put her head on my upper arm.

"How well did you know Dina?" I asked.

"We moved in the same social circle, but that was all. She's the kind of woman only men like and who likes only men."

"George Maudson said he heard gossip about her and another man."

She stirred, straightening up a little. "George heard that from me. I mentioned it one night while he and Father were discussing whether Barney Larkin should run for judge."

I said: "You've been trying to use me. Now give me the details."

"Our maid and the Larkins' maid were close friends. You know the way maids tell each other everything, and Amy—our maid—told me. It seems that whenever Barney Larkin was away overnight Dina didn't come home until dawn, and sometimes she said she was visiting a friend in the evening when the maid knew she wasn't. I doubt if Barney suspected. She was careful, but she couldn't keep it from the maid. About a month ago she fired the maid, perhaps because she realized that she knew too much. And the maid in a rage went and told Barney."

Joey was asleep on a cot in the police station. He was so exhausted that I managed to dress him without waking him; but he came out of sleep abruptly when I carried him out to the car, and he clung to my neck. He didn't protest when I kissed him.

In the car he sat between Hannah and me. She slipped an arm about him and he snuggled against her and within a few minutes he was again asleep. After a while she dozed off too.

Dina broke clean and crisp and fresh-smelling. Every now and then I glanced at the boy asleep in the sleeping woman's arms. They made a snug picture, complete and throat-catching, but it was spoiled by an invisible briefcase.

Hannah woke at the outskirts of Raventon, blinked into the broad daylight, adjusted Joey's head on her breast. I asked her if she wanted to go on to my place for her car.

"I've had enough driving," she said. "I'll send for it this afternoon."

"You didn't get anything out of this ride," I told her.

"You think so?" She looked out of the window on her right until we reached her house.

Sandy Saddler, Still in Army, Fights Bossio Tonight

NEW YORK — Sandy Saddler, the most explosive featherweight in ring history, will show tonight whether he kept his powder dry while in the Army.

The world featherweight champion, still in the Army, will make his first professional start in 22 months against stocky little Bill Bossio of Pittsburgh in a TV-radio non-title 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

Will that long absence from sharp competition dampen the dynamite that gave him a record knockout average of 629 for featherweights who engaged in more than 100 bouts.

At 27, will the lanky New Yorker display weaknesses that may presage loss of his 126-pound crown after he receives his Army discharge in April?

He hasn't had a professional start since March 17, 1952, when he stopped Tommy Collins in the fifth round. He hasn't defended since Sept. 26, 1951, when he stopped Willie Pep in the ninth. He has been a camp instructor and promoter in Germany for many months.

Bossio, 25, is the type who might give Pfc. Sandy trouble. The bouncing bartender is a low and elusive target for a lanky larruper. Rubbery Bill stands but 5-feet, 1/2-inch although he has the arms and shoulders of a welterweight. And he's a speedy in-and-out and round-about.

Nevertheless, the champion was favored at the odds of 4-1 today because of his punch. Sandy knocked out 90 of his 143 opponents.

No title is involved because each principal must weigh more than the feather limit of 126 pounds, and less than 131.

There are 173 square miles in Camp Lejeune, N. C., largest Marine base in the world.

Ceylon is rich in sapphires.

Looking AT Sports

By BILL MELTON

Hope this doesn't put a jinx on the Carrier Mills Wildcats! Did you know the 'Cats have been practically unbeatable on their home floor during the past four cage seasons?

Tuesday night after the Carrier Mills victory over Metropolis a Carrier Mills fan asked — "Do you realize we have lost but one game at home in the last 36 played, extending over three full seasons and half of this one?" I didn't and decided to do some research and found the fan was almost correct, but Carrier Mills, according to what I found, has lost two and won 34 at home during that period and have run the string to 24 in a row. That isn't a record, but it is GOOD.

The winning streak goes like this. This season six games at home and all were victories for the 'Cats. Last season, ten games at home and all resulted in Carrier Mills victories. The season before that (1951-52) won the last eight. That adds up to the 24 in a row.

At the start of the 1951-52 season Carrier Mills won the opener at home, then dropped the second home start, a two-point loss to Harrisburg. Now for the 1950-51 season — nine straight wins at home, then Carrier Mills dropped a decision to Galatia on Feb. 23, 1951, the last home game of the season. That adds up to 34 victories in the last 36 games played at home by Carrier Mills. By going back one more season (1949-1950) we find the 'Cats won the last three at home that year — that makes it even better — 37 of 39.

Some highlights over this period. Won the game of Nov. 7, 1950, when the new scoreboard was dedicated and in that same season came up with the upset victory over highly rated Cave-in-Rock on Dec. 9, Jan. 11, 1952, Carrier Mills ran up a 101-90 victory over Galatia. The following season, Feb. 3, 1953, Carrier Mills scored 102 points in a one sided win from Vienna.

More about C. M. The team warmed up Tuesday night with a ball that looked like a Christmas tree ornament. It was painted two shades of brown. The sections alternated from dark brown to light brown. Don't know the advantage to it, but to watch it in the air it looked as though it was floating "crazy like."

A Polio benefit program is planned in the Carrier Mills gym for Saturday, Jan. 23, it has been announced by Warren Jennings, principal. There will be a basketball game with business men of the community on the teams, volleyball featuring girls from the band and from the girls PE class and the band will perform. There will be no admission charged, but an offering will be accepted.

Duke Snider Signs His Fattest Contract; Kiner Satisfied with Cubs Offer

By United Press
Duke Snider, the Brooklyn Dodgers' star outfielder, signed the fattest contract of his life today with the club when he left the day with the fervent wish that he'll have "another chance to beat those Yankees."

The 27-year-old centerfielder, who had his best season in 1953 when he led the National League in slugging average, runs scored, and total bases, was believed to have received about $30,000 — a healthy boost over his $24,000 salary of last season.

"I hope I can do as well this year as I did last," said Snider at his home in Lynwood, Calif. "I can just hit over 300. I'll be satisfied if we win the pennant. We can't forget about those other seven teams in the league first," he said. "But I'm really looking forward to another World Series because I want another chance to beat those Yankees."

Kiner "Satisfied"
Sluggish Ralph Kiner of the Chicago Cubs also has agreed to terms, but the ex-homer champion reportedly took a cut from his $80,000 contract of last season. Kiner, who batted .279 and hit 35 homers last year, wired the Cubs he was "satisfied" with the salary terms.

It was reported that three more members of the world champion Yankees also have agreed to have turned down the first salary figures offered to them. Pitcher Whitey Ford previously indicated his disagreement.

Announcing The New Packard CLIPPER

The new Packard CLIPPER Panama Hardtop! Sportiest car in the new CLIPPER line.

See the 1954 Packard line at your dealer's beginning Friday, January 15th.

America's Newest Medium-Priced Car!

Luxury at a lot less...because Packard builds it

A year ago the Packard CLIPPER was introduced as America's newest medium-priced car.

■ And men who know were quick to say: "That's a lot of car for the money!"

■ And it was a lot of car for the money. And it is a lot of car for the money. Because Packard builds it.

So the news spread!

■ And in 1954 the new CLIPPER brings you fine-car luxuries, fine-car

CLIPPER SPECIAL CLUB SEDAN

power, fine-car ride... (the high-price features everybody wants)... and yet at a popular, medium price!

■ We have built a finer car for '54 because experience in '53 proved that there are many thousands of Americans who want a true luxury car in the medium-price range.

■ Most cars in the medium-price field are simply big brothers of smaller cars made by the same company. These cars may offer the modern gadgets and the smooth look of the big car, but in most cases their basic engineering is still influenced by small-car engineering.

"Packard-built" makes the difference

■ No feature or claim will ever give you a more powerful reason for buying a CLIPPER than the name Packard.

■ You'll find the reason when you take command of a Packard CLIPPER and put it through its paces over a road of your own choosing. Make that date with "Packard-built quality at a popular, medium price" very soon... won't you?

■ You'll get luxury for a lot less in a Packard CLIPPER.

Since you can't test the new Packard CLIPPER at the famous Packard Proving Ground, get the story, fact by fact, on the pocket proving ground at your dealer's. But don't stop there! For the real thrill, drive a CLIPPER.

Plus state and local taxes, if any, for Clipper Special Club Sedan (illustrated at left). Optional equipment, including white sidewall tires, extra. Prices may vary slightly in nearby communities due to shipping charges.

Did you know you can buy a Packard CLIPPER for as little as $2613

Better Population Distribution Needed At Eldorado, Door-to-Door Census Shows

ELDORADO, Ill. — Public-spirited citizens dedicated to the job of making this declining community "the best town in the U. S." pitched into their task with renewed vigor today after getting a gloomy report from a door-to-door census.

The community development enthusiasts, who have been taking stock of their assets and liabilities, learned that the population of Eldorado has declined from 4500 to 4075 since 1950 because of the lack of employment here.

Census figures indicated that 43 percent of the 1950 population of males between 20 and 24 have moved away. Only 4.1 per cent of the population now falls into this age group while most cities have an average of 7.6 in this age category.

In all age groups the male population declined since 1950 except for men 60 and up. Younger women have also been seeking opportunity elsewhere, the census showed, so that five percent of the population is now 75 years old or more. There are nearly 100 more widows than single women.

A population committee, one of 13 groups organized here this week, will try to come up with some answers about what can be done to improve population distribution. An economic development committee will tackle the problems of improving agriculture and industry here. Following the meeting Monday night, each of the committees on which hundreds of local residents will serve have campaigns for building up Eldorado from all sides.

Next Monday night, townspeople will forego their regular community development meeting to discuss a proposal that the city buy the Eldorado Water Co. from a Chicago firm for $625,000. Suggested by the government committee, the meeting next week was called

Freshman Students Air Problems with High School Principals at SIU Meeting

CARBONDALE, Ill.—Some Southern Illinois university freshmen students, looking back after five months of college experience, aired their beefs and bouquets to high school principals during Southern's first College Freshman-High School Principal conference on the campus Wednesday.

Principals and superintendents from 11 southern Illinois high schools participated in the idea-and problem-swapping conference.

Last Surviving Niece of Abraham Lincoln Dies

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Death has taken the last surviving niece and closest living relative of Abraham Lincoln, Mrs. Minnie Smith Johnson, 97.

Her mother was a sister of Mary Todd, Lincoln's wife. Mrs. Johnson was born April 28, 1855.

She died Thursday in a nursing home where she had been living the last year. Previously she lived in a nursing home in Oldsmar, Fla., for many years.

In the declining years of her life, Mrs. Johnson was forced to sell some treasured belongings and mementoes to obtain money for living expenses.

Many of the items she sold were given her family by Lincoln. The last thing Mrs. Johnson sold was a clock which the president had given her father. Before that she sold a desk, once used by Lincoln, to a patriotic society.

Mrs. Johnson's husband died several years ago and is buried at Oak Ridge Cemetery, near the last resting place of the Great Emancipator.

UNCLE EF

A lot of people, says the Reverend Passmore, talk about what fools they were in their younger days, without realizing that their friends haven't recognized any change as they've grown older.

istration. They would like to have some orientation on the problem in high school.

7. Classes are too large in college as compared to high schools, robbing the student of the personal interest he feels he needs from his instructors.

8. Southern's students are a jolly, friendly bunch, but they need more of that "old school spirit."

sponsored by the SIU Division of University Extension. Raymond H. Dey, dean of extension, said Wednesday's event was a trial affair which will be enlarged to include all high school principals of the area next year if desired. The plan has been used successfully in Indiana and Michigan for two decades, he said.

The purpose was to discover some of the mutual problems involved in doing a better teaching job in the high schools and the university and to make smoother the student's transition from high school to college work. Most participants went home with a handful of notes and some new ideas on the job they need to do for their students.

Principals interviewed some of their former students in small groups during the morning and then spent the afternoon in a general meeting with college deans and advisers to assemble data, air opinions, and discuss problems.

Participating were principals from Anna, Carbondale, Cobden, Du Quoin, Herrin, Harrisburg, Mt. Vernon, Murphysboro, Sesser, and West Frankfort.

Most principals were in agreement with L. Goebel Patton, superintendent of the West Frankfort schools, when he said that he was surprised at the frankness with which his former students discussed their problems and their instructors.

Many good things were said for both high school and college programs, but the list of problems and recommendations garnered from the students, SIU deans and advisers, and the principals went like this:

1. Something needs to be done about more and better teaching of mathematics, rhetoric, vocabulary, and the physical sciences—chemistry and physics—to high school students who plan to go to college. The students pointed out this need.

2. Freshmen feel they need more required courses in high school to prepare them for college.

3. More high school guidance, laboratory work, and projects are needed.

4. Some college teachers talk over the heads of the beginning student.

5. Beginning college students have trouble budgeting their time and money and in adjusting themselves to making decisions for themselves in living away from home. They think more adult supervision over study conditions would be desirable.

6. Students are bewildered and discouraged during university reg-
